VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT FOR MICHIGAN SUPREME COURT LEARNING CENTER

LANSING, MI, July 6, 2004 – The Michigan Supreme Court Learning Center is seeking volunteers to act as tour guides for school groups and other Learning Center visitors.

The Learning Center, which is located on the first floor of the Michigan Hall of Justice in Lansing, educates the public about the role of the Michigan court system in their everyday lives. The 3,800-square foot museum-style gallery is filled with information, computer games, and hands-on activities.

The next series of volunteer training classes will begin September 7, 2004. Sessions will be held Tuesdays, 9 a.m. to noon through October 5, 2004, for a total of five sessions. Classes will include information about the Michigan judicial system, the Learning Center exhibit, and tips for giving great tours.

Volunteers who have an interest in the law and would like to share their knowledge and enthusiasm with others, particularly school-age children, are ideal for this opportunity. Tours last one hour and are scheduled during Learning Center hours, Monday-Friday, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Applications are available by calling 517-373-7229 or visiting the Learning Center website at <http://www.courts.michigan.gov/plc/volunteer.htm>. Interviews and background checks will be required for all applicants.
